

SCIENTOLOGY DESTROYS FAMILIES

The ``Church`` of Scientology's DISCONNECTION policy forces members of the Church to cut off all contact with any person, friend, or family member that the Church deems a ``Suppressive Person``.

This policy is used recklessly by the Church of Scientology to separate families and create a rift between those outside the Church and those trapped within it. It removes any social or family support an individual has outside the Church, all but ensuring that those who might wish to leave the organization cannot do so.

ANONYMOUS, in its protest campaign against the Church for its blatant disregard of the law, of the well-being of its members, and of basic human decency, has launched an international effort to force an end to Scientology's disconnection policy and reunite those it has torn apart. OPERATION RECONNECT, our campaign to reunite the families Scientology has tried to destroy, begins this April and will include our third international protest of the Church of on April 12th.
